Preparing your Stay

Visa and Health Insurance

Visa requirements

International students from countries not part of the EU please check your visa requirement. The visa application must be submitted to the local German embassy well ahead of your stay. The costs may vary, but generally a visa costs about 80 €. Please contact your local German embassy for a detailed list of documents needed for a visa.

Student Visa

Even if you have not received your admission letter yet, you should apply for a student visa as soon as possible. Student visas are only issued for a period of up to three months. After your arrival in Germany, you will need to apply for a student residence permit at the Immigration Offices of Rosenheim, Burghausen or Traunstein.

Proof of financial resources

If you are an international student from a non-EU country, you must prove that you have the financial resources to cover your living expenses in Germany. Proof of financial resources is an important condition to get your student visa and your study residence permit. The amount required to be deposited into the German blocked account when applying for a student visa to Germany is 5,604 € or 934 € per month for your planned stay (for one semester).

Health insurance

As health insurance is mandatory in Germany, you need to provide proof of health insurance recognised in Germany. German health insurance companies are either public or private. You can get German statutory health insurance, or, if you already are fully insured in your home country, provide proof of exemption from the German statutory health insurance upon enrolment. Please remember that providing proof of health insurance recognised in Germany is necessary upon enrolment at TH Rosenheim.

Public universities in Bavaria do not charge tuition fees for full-time undergraduate and graduate courses, neither for German nor for international students. The only fees are 85 € student services fee per semester, including your student ID card. You can use your ID card for paying on campus (e.g. in the mensa, for printing) and for the library. Rosenheim, Burghausen and Traunstein are affordable places to live compared to many big cities. You can also live cheaply by shopping at the weekly markets, and by cooking your own meals. As these cities are on the smaller side, you can easily manage to walk or cycle everywhere instead of taking the bus, and thus further reduce your living expenses. You do not need a car as you can easily discover Germany by public transport.

Housing

As the different campuses of TH Rosenheim are popular places to live, there is often a shortage of accommodation. Start to look early for a private place at:

Getting Around by Train / Deutsche Bahn

A cheap way to get around in Bavaria on train, is the Deutsche Bahn (DB) "Bayern Ticket". The ticket is valid from 09:00 am to 03:00 am on the following day, all day on weekends, and on Bavaria-wide public holidays. You can also use the ticket for further public transport in Bavarian cities.
