

Library System Migration – Important Information

Starting Monday, July 6, 2026, the migration to our new library system will enter a new phase. As a result, there will be some temporary restrictions:

- Self-checkout stations will be out of service – Borrowing is only possible at the information desk. Please allow a little extra time.
- Borrowing during service hours – Books can only be borrowed during service hours.
- OPAC catalog will be frozen – Until the go-live on July 14, 2026, the titles listed in the catalog may differ from the media actually available on the shelves.
- No holds during this transition phase
- No renewals during this transition phase
- Returns will not be processed until after the go-live date
- Overdue notices will be suspended
- Interlibrary loans will not be available again until July 22; until then, the procedure outlined on our information page applies

Our tip:

If you anticipate needing materials within the next 3 weeks, please borrow them in the coming days if possible, while the catalog listings are still relatively up to date.
